Three day Workshop on Medical Applications of Signal and Image Processing

MASIP-2006

January 23-25, 2006

Sponsored by

Biomedical Engineering Society of India
BMESI, India

Organized by

DEPARTMENT OF BIOMEDICAL ENGINEERING
Manipal Institute of Technology

(A constituent Institution of Manipal Academy of Higher Education)

Manipal - 576 104, Karnataka, India

Manipal Academy of Higher Education

(A Deemed University)

The Organising Institution:

Manipal Institute of Technology (MIT), Manipal, Karnataka, was established in 1957, by Visionary, Philanthropist, Padmashree Dr. T. M. A. Pai, who is regarded as the Architect of modern Manipal. MIT is one of the top ranking Institutions for Engineering and Technology education in the country, offering 13 under graduate courses and 12 postgraduate courses and Ph.D programs in many areas. It is a constituent institution of the Manipal Academy of Higher Education (MAHE) – A Deemed University, having a vision “Excellence in Technical Education through Innovation and Teamwork”.

The Organising Department:

Biomedical Engineering (BME) is a multidisciplinary field in which the principles of engineering are applied to solving problems in biology or medicine. The Biomedical Engineering course is started in the year 1989 in MIT and is run under the joint auspices of the Engineering faculties of MIT and Medical faculties of Kasturba Medical College (KMC), Manipal. The proximity of KMC with MIT has provided a very favorable environment for Biomedical Engineering studies, both at the graduate and postgraduate levels. The Department has well equipped laboratories. It offers U.G and P.G courses in Biomedical Engineering and Ph.D Programs.

Objective:

The objective of this workshop is to give the participants an insight into the developments in the field of Signal and Image Processing for health care industry. This provides an opportunity for the participants to seek new avenues for research in the areas of biosignal and medical image processing.

Course content:

This workshop will expose the participants to the developments of advanced techniques, tools in signal and image processing.

Eligibility:

This course is meant for faculty, students and researchers of AICTE recognized engineering colleges and professionals in the field.

Resource Persons:

Eminent keynote speakers from academic institutions, industries and R&D institutions will deliver special lectures on the above-mentioned fields.
